A calendar of prophetic time, drawn by an express Scripture-line, from the creation to the new Jerusalem demonstrating that the famous apocryphal vision of the witnesses slain, truly explained, did determine at the Reformation begun by Luther, but that the time of their prophecy in sackcloth will not expire till the year 1697: On which shall follow the fall of the tenth of the city Babylon in ten hortas, or kings separated entirely from it: And the Turkish woe passed, and the seventeenth day of the moon of the arrival of the second horn then in the air, with the seven thunders unsealed, Apoc. 14: And at the year 1727 shall begin the final destruction of the beast by the vials, accomplished at the year 1772, in the New Jerusalem briefly described: With a postscript freeing this computation from objections rising from the sentiments of the most pious and learned expositor Dr. More, especially in his late Arthmetic Apocalypistica, and his answer to S.E. 1684. London: Printed for the author, and are to be sold by the booksellers.
